

How Much Can You Love?

by Diannia Baty

- Can you love enough to honor the differences and not compare?
- Can you love enough to forgive another?
- Can you love enough to find some way to be of service to others?
- Can you love enough to be grateful for everything?
- Can you love enough not to hate?
- Can you love enough to feed a hungry creature?
- Can you love enough to give away what you do not need?
- Can you love enough to give comfort to someone?
- Can you love enough not to sow negativity?
- Can you love the earth enough to take care of it?
- Can you love enough to tell another about God?
- Can you love enough to see God in everyone?
- Can you love enough to be generous with your time?
- Can you love enough to be joyful for being alive?
- Can you love enough that you are grateful you have sight and can read this?
- Can you love enough to hug and praise someone today?
- Can you love yourself enough to try and be healthy and give up unhealthy habits?
- Can you love enough to gently teach another?
- Can you love enough not to communicate with anger in your heart?
- Can you love enough that you can't contain it and let it spill over to all.
- Can you love enough to be a good steward of all your gifts and talents?
- Can you love yourself and God enough to pray or meditate today?
- Can you love God enough to say "I love you?"
- Can you love yourself enough to be kind to you today?
- Can you love enough to remember that love is everything and is of God?
- Can you remember Love?
- Will you remember to Love?
